

Before

The CF Ranch, the client, wanted to have this painting converted to a pen sketch to be used as the cover for thank you cards.

After

The above rendition was accomplished by employing a variety of Photoshop techniques, as well as adding the client's logo on the blanket and colors on the jockey silks. This image was printed on the cover of the thank you cards, and the client received many favorable comments on the design.